

CERLER

Skiing up to and above 2600m | Within 14hrs of Calais | Quieter resort, uncrowded pistes
 Great progression for beginners and intermediates | Gentler slopes and warmer climate compared with the Alps
 Accommodation within 200m walk | One of the best resorts in Spain | Perfect for Spanish language students

8

GREEN RUNS LIFTS

10 CHAIR LIFTS

4 DRAG LIFTS

6 MOVING WALKWAYS

FOOD / FUN

4 RESTAURANTS

1 SNOW PARK

DIRECTION OF SLOPES

2630M
HIGHEST SKING

1500M
CERLER VILLAGE

Cerler is a high altitude, snow-sure resort in the Spanish Pyrenees in the region of Aragon. Whilst the skiing ranges from 1500m to almost 2700m, the majority is above 1900m which ensures good conditions throughout the winter.

The skiing has a great mix of pistes with slopes suitable for all abilities, but Cerler really comes into its own for beginners and intermediates. Where the Alps tend to attract those looking for the really steep and challenging blacks, the Pyrenees is more for those who want to enjoy their skiing at less of an adrenaline busting level. The generally warmer climate also makes learning here more of a pleasure and so Cerler's suitability for school groups cannot be understated. Let's also not forget that if you school teaches Spanish, this is a real-world destination for students to hone their language skills!

Not only is there more than 80km of piste to tackle, Cerler also boasts the 12km run with the acclaim of having the longest vertical descent in the Pyrenees - effectively you ski all the way from the very top to the very bottom in one run! The 80km are neatly spread across three areas, each with a slightly differing landscape which gives the feel that you are really exploring the mountains.

Cerler really is a great destination for school skiing.

SCHOOL & COLLEGE SKI TRIPS